

INTERIOR DESIGN YEARBOOK

THE TREND 'BIBLE' AND ESSENTIAL SOURCEBOOK FOR INTERIOR DESIGN PROFESSIONALS

The Interior Design Yearbook is the ultimate source book, aimed specifically at interior designers, architects, specifiers and key buyers in the interior design marketplace. Oozing style and innovation throughout its pages, the book is an invaluable tool for every designer, providing its readership with the latest industry trends, predictions in the marketplace and a first class directory, filled with top spec products from across the globe. Contributing designers have included Kelly Hoppen, Tara Bernerd and Christopher Jenner; whose experience and insight into the interior design industry have proved invaluable to designers and suppliers alike. Published this summer, the yearbook is a direct, cost-effective and stylish way to reach and influence the marketplace, develop sales and promote product awareness. Used by top-level specifiers and contractors in the industry, interior designers and architects alike refer to the yearbook as the number one in product sourcing and supplier information. The book is a favourite at Decorex and a consumer edition is available to purchase in all WHSmith stores across the UK, aimed at aspiring designers trying to break into the industry. This edition will be introduced with a foreword by Sue Timney, President of the BIID, plus a host of other notable names from the world of interior design.

◀ Showcasing the best projects of the year and demonstrating the trends and styles from the world's leading interiors professionals.

TESTIMONIALS:

Armani/ Casa:

"We tasked The Interior Design Yearbook 2010 team to increase the awareness of our New Bond Street store among their database of affluent readers. Introducing our new Textile Partner and Armani/Dada Kitchen Partner - They certainly managed it – exceeding our already high expectations. As well as successfully promoting Armani/Casa lifestyle Brand through the 2010 book, it is a pleasure working with the Onecom team, who are both professional and creative in equal measure."

Iris Dunbar, Past President of BIID:

"The Interior Design Yearbook is a great resource for our industry as well as being an informed view to the public about interior design as a profession. A publication such as this helps to inform the general public that interior design spans all sectors from residential to hospitality and from retail to theatre."

Anna Dodonova, Anna Casa:

"Being in the Interior Design Yearbook is essential for Anna Casa; it helps keep us front of mind with interior designers and is great exposure for the business. We also find the yearbook really helpful when working with clients to help them source interesting items. The yearbook covers such a wide range of products and the compact format means it is kept handy at all times."

Vanessa Brady, Chairman SBID:

"The handbook is the 'must-have' guide for all professional interior design sourcing, I like the idea of the directory-style book punctuated with colourful visuals from the gods of professional suppliers and designers alike. It is interior design in a handbook, black and white with striking and subtle colour in a very sophisticated lay-out. I love it. It will be in every designer's kit."
